

Record real wage drop shows Amazon must get real on wages

35p hourly rise from a company that made billions during pandemic is a joke

GMB Union says today's labour record breaking real wage drop shows big businesses like Amazon must get real on pay.

Gary Smith, GMB General Secretary, said:

"Today's record drop in real wages shows big business needs to get real on pay.

"A 35p hourly rise from a company that made billions during pandemic is a joke.

"The best way to get a proper pay rise is to join a trade union and GMB will keep fighting to make work better for our members all across the country."
