

New Strike dates at Panasonic Cardiff announced

GMB Union has announced more strike dates in the pay dispute at Panasonic Cardiff.

Staff are now set to strike on the 22nd and 29th of November and 6th Of December, with more dates expected to be announced soon.

On Monday workers gathered at the Electronics giant's Cardiff plant to demonstrate, after the company withdrew its pay offer and from pay talks altogether and refused talks through ACAS.

It means workers will see a pay freeze for the second year running.

The campaign has seen support from high profile elected representatives like Jo Stevens MP, Anna McMorin MP and Julie Morgan MS.

Nicola Savage, GMB regional organiser said:

“This issue isn’t going away.

“Our members deserve a real pay rise, and we will fight until we get them one.

“We want to thank the politicians and the public who have been so supportive so far and ask them to get behind us again on social media in the coming weeks.

“Everyone can see how unjust this is, it’s time that Panasonic understand that and come back to the table.”
