

Ineos green hydrogen investment 'welcome'

Andy Prendergast, GMB National Secretary, said:

GMB, the energy union, welcomes a decision by chemicals giant Ineos to significantly increase investment in green hydrogen technology.

Andy Prendergast, GMB National Secretary, said:

“Green hydrogen has the potential to go a huge way towards meeting our future heating needs.

“It is an efficient, sustainable, green fuel and could safeguard tens of thousands of gas jobs and the communities that they support.

“This technology can utilise the current infrastructure and investments like these offer a way forward for the industry to achieve net zero targets in a way that is both environmentally sustainable and deliverable.”
