Hundreds of temporary workers to move to permanent contracts thanks to GMB Union work

Hundreds of workers at JCB on temporary contracts have been moved to full-time work thanks to a campaign by GMB Union representatives.

The 300 new jobs, spread across eight sites in the West Midlands, signal a remarkable turnaround for a workforce that was facing more than 900 permanent and 720 temporary job cuts at JCB at the start of the pandemic.

Stuart Harrison, GMB Regional Organiser said:

“Yet again our fantastic workplace reps have saved jobs and secured the future for their members.

“Union workers at JCB have defended themselves throughout the pandemic and as a result, not a single one has lost their job.

“We expect to win even more permanent contracts for our members by year’s end.”
